THE FORIX FOUNDATION...providing an arch to a better life

Our mission is to direct philanthropic dollars towards economically challenged communities throughout the world, helping them develop long term solutions to improve the quality of their lives.

GRANT OBJECTIVES

The foundation will support non-profit organizations that educate people in underserved communities, through programs that facilitate the learning of new skills towards self-sufficiency and civic participation. Specifically, the foundation aims to support organizations or programs that recognize and foster the interdependence and mutually reinforcing aspects of personal skill development. The most attractive activities are those that specifically develop skills and capacities and better the lives of those in a given community be it through expanding educational opportunity or quality of life enhancement.

Therefore, the fund will seek proof of the following in prospective grantees' programs:

- Active learning
- Broadening access to educational opportunity
- Practical knowledge and skill-building
- Quality of life enhancement programs
- A commitment to performance measurement and continuous programmatic improvement

Importance of Education

The Foundation believes that education and the ensuing capability to control one's future, is a basic right and is central to one's ability to achieve personal and economic independence. Certain members or groups within communities will face challenges throughout their lives – especially during difficult economic times like those we are presently facing. These community members need to have the personal skills, perspective, and orientation to independently navigate challenges as they arise. Moreover, they need a lasting skill set that will prepare them for challenges to come.

Impact

We hope that through our funding and additional resources, we can help existing and nascent projects to further their impact and scope. We are looking to help nonprofit organizations which have the vision to operate and grow for years down the road and are committed to sharing their knowledge base going forward while making a lasting positive impact on the participants as well as the peripheral community.

Eligible Organizations:

The fund is open to 501(c)(3) nonprofit organizations that fulfill the grant objectives.

Required Criteria:

- Partner is an in-country non-governmental organization. Projects administered by large international NGOs will not be funded.
- Organizations have been in existence at least two years, with demonstrable success. Outside funding for the organization should not be substantial (generally below $100,000 US annually).
- The organization will have email access. Proposals will be accepted solely in English.
- Partner works with communities to develop programs in response to needs identified by the community. The resulting programs must be community-based and community-led, including participation from the community in money, labor, or in-kind materials.
- Partner recognizes the inter-related nature of community problems and develops programs that address those problems in a "holistic" or integrated manner.
- Partners do not restrict opportunities for women to participate in leadership and decision making roles and as staff in the program or project.
- Proposed programs are moving toward self supporting i.e., include provisions for maintenance and ongoing funding and are environmentally sound.
- Programs are integrated into the local infrastructure, and respect local culture and traditions.
- Partner provides services to people regardless of their religious beliefs and does not propagate a belief in a specific faith.
- Financial systems must be in place before money is dispersed (an established bank account; designated treasurer who tracks expenses; and financial oversight by a council or board). Funds must be spent within 1 year of grant being awarded or the balance returned.
- A minimum of one progress report will be necessary during the course of the project; the number of reports required will depend on the duration and scope of the project. Reports must be able to be submitted in English and in a timely manner.

Organizations may make program-specific requests and/or requests for general operating support. General operating support is unrestricted and can be used to cover overhead expenses, such as technology, staffing, and marketing that are not program-specific but that help the organization to be effective. However, general operating expense requests must submit a budget describing need, delineating expenditures and justifying program enhancements.

WHAT THE FUND WILL NOT SUPPORT

- Direct grants to individuals, scholarships, fellowships, etc.
- Projects with a religious purpose or political activities
- Organizations which exhibit a bias against any particular sex, religious affiliation or other discriminating parameters.
